Nantwich Veterinary Group Equine Centre

Nantwich Veterinary Group Equine Centre is a specialist practice based in Cheshire with a complement of 7 experienced equine vets.

The practice covers all areas of equine medicine and surgery and are best known for the diagnosis and management of lame performance horses. They also have vast experience in stud medicine, medical cases and have an extensive ambulatory service.

I have found Osphos to be quick and easy to administer and is non-invasive, due to its mode of administration being a simple intramuscular injection.

It is an affordable treatment option, which makes it more accessible for most clients, meaning that more horses who need a bisphosphonate, can now be treated without the costs being prohibitive.

Because of this, I need to spend less time monitoring patients, which leads to lower costs for my clients and it also frees up my time to enable me to see more patients

- CAMPBELL THOMPSON BVM&S

In my experience of using Osphos, I have seen a low number of side effects, most importantly very few colic cases.

Because of this, I need to spend less time monitoring patients, which leads to lower costs for my clients and it also frees up my time to enable me to see more patients.
